

Mini-Symposium Introducing SysKid

Renal Research: Achievements & Expectations

March 12, 2010 · Medical University of Innsbruck

Lecture Hall · Medizinzentrum Anichstrasse · Anichstrasse 35 · 6020 Innsbruck · Chair: Gert Mayer, Innsbruck

15.00 - 15.10	Welcome note, Medical University of Innsbruck Norbert Mutz, Innsbruck (Austria)	Prof. Dr. Harry Holthöfer MD, PhD Director, Center for Bioanalytical Sciences at Dublin City University, Ireland
15.10 - 15.30	Introduction to the SysKid EU project Gert Mayer, Innsbruck (Austria)	Dr. Steve Ledbetter, Director, Cell Biology, Cell & Protein Therapeutics Division, Genzyme Corporation, Cambridge, USA
15.30 - 16.00	The future of academic renal research: Challenges of funding and student souls Harry Holthoefer, Dublin (Ireland)	Univ. Prof. Dr. Gert Mayer Director, Department of Internal Medicine IV, Nephrology and Hypertension Medical University of Innsbruck, Austria
16.00 - 16.30	The future of applied renal research: Case studies from discovery to preclinical development Steve Ledbetter, Cambridge (USA)	Prof. Dr. Matthew J. McQueen FRCP, FCACB, MBChB, PhD Director, Hamilton General Hospital and McMaster University Lipid Research Clinic, Hamilton, Canada
16.30 - 17.00	The future of clinical renal research: Getting small investigators out of e-hell Timothy W. Meyer, Palo Alto (USA)	Prof. Dr. Timothy W Meyer, MD, Division Chief, Fellowship Director, Department of Medicine, Division of Nephrology, Stanford University, Palo Alto, USA
17.00 - 17.30	The future of cardiovascular research in the renal context: Cardiovascular lessons applied to acute and chronic kidney disease research Matthew McQueen, Hamilton (Canada)	Univ. Prof. Dr. Norbert J. Mutz Vice-Rector, Medical University of Innsbruck, Austria